Food Insecurity
Food Insecurity

Food insecurity is the disruption of food intake or eating patterns because of lack of money or other resources (Food Access Research Atlas, USDA).

Goal

Review and analyze The Foodbank’s childhood hunger programs to identify ways to better serve the whole family.

Identify and address hunger relief programming service gaps and areas of unmet needs.

Expand The Foodbank’s partner agency capacity.

Key Measure

Completion of Childhood Hunger Strategic Plan.

of new or relocated programs placed in identified areas.

of partner agencies reporting increased capacity.

Lee Lauren Truesdale, The Foodbank, Inc. (co-chair)
GOAL 1: Review & analyze Foodbank childhood hunger programs to identify ways to better serve the whole family.

- Participation in Feeding America’s Childhood Hunger Cohort

- Current childhood hunger programs:
  - Good-to-Go Backpack Program
  - Kids’ Cafes
  - Dayton Children’s Hospital Food Script Program

- Next steps: identifying ways to feed the whole family and expand awareness of hunger relief network
GOAL 2: Identify & address hunger relief programming service gaps and areas on unmet needs.

- Identify areas of high poverty that lack a local food pantry using PantryTrak data that The Foodbank keeps for ODJFS

- Takes transportation into account

- Mobile Farmer’s Markets help meet the needs of home-bound seniors and rural communities, “meeting clients where they’re at” and increasing produce consumption

- Sponsored Mobiles are funded by an outside partner to target a specific area or community

- Needs-based Mobiles are formed through gap mapping

GOAL 3: Expand Foodbank partner agency capacity.

- Pilot partner agency program 2019: working with 13 agencies to identify challenges and opportunities, fundraise, and increase capacity to solve food insecurity

- Each agency receives a tailored support plan

- Development of a partner agency council to represent all 100+ agencies of The Foodbank

- The Foodbank’s tiered membership program

- Next steps: seeking new and innovative ways to serve clients (e-pantry)
