Jazzae is an expressive, articulate and insightful young teen who knows what she wants and will openly share her opinion with others. She can be described as “techy”, as she enjoys playing with her drone, navigating the world wide web and playing video games on her DS. She is helpful to others, is a willing worker and she loves to clean.

Jazzae is working through the grief and loss issues of her biological family, and is acquiring coping skills to accept the losses in her life. It will be important for Jazzae to reinvest in the adoption process and, as such, her viewpoint will be valued. Jazzae needs a family that will advocate for her when needed, guide her and make her feel safe. The ideal family for her is either a single or two-parent family where she is either the only child or the youngest. The family must be honest, nurturing, and consistent. Jazzae would do well in a household where they enjoy doing things together.
