

Tyrese

Born in 2004

Basketball is Tyrese's passion. Whenever he can, he is out on the courts in the neighborhood shooting hoops. He enjoys playing outside, but when the weather turns cold, he goes to the local rec center to play. Of course, he loves new basketball shoes as well.

Tyrese enjoys other sports such as baseball and soccer as well, but they come in second and third to basketball.

Tyrese describes himself as a "nice person." He can be polite, such as holding the door open for a woman. He is very independent and somewhat of a loner too except when playing basketball.

He loves school and reports that Math, Science and Social Studies are his favorite subjects. Tyrese needs a family to provide him with the love and encouragement he needs as he moves into young adulthood.
