The Board of County Commissioners, despite the handicap of having to

The past year saw the passing of another decade in the history of

Montgomery County and also pointed the way of "things to come"—in

The 60's, perhaps the 70's.
The County Health Department is charged with the responsibility of protecting the public health of people living in the county against all diseases and environmental health hazards. The department carries out various activities, including school inspections, to ensure a safe environment. The department is also responsible for ensuring the safety of drinking water, preventing the spread of garbage and refuse, and maintaining the health of the community. The department provides nursing services to the aged and infirm.

The office operation of reduced cost is achieved by providing better efficiency in the work and by reducing office space through the use of efficient systems. The accounting system installed in the office is efficient and well organized, ensuring that all financial transactions are recorded correctly.

The sewer and water system in the Montgomery County is designed to provide efficient and reliable services. The sewer system is designed to carry away waste materials and prevent pollution. The water system ensures a consistent supply of clean water for domestic and industrial use.

The water supply is derived from the Main Creek River, which flows through the county. The river provides a reliable source of water for the community. The water is treated to remove impurities and ensure it meets the required standards for human consumption.

The health department is committed to maintaining the health and well-being of the community. It works closely with other agencies and organizations to ensure that the community is protected from any health risks.

The financial activities of the various divisions of the county government during the past year have been reflected in the Treasurer's Office. Major sources of fees collected for 1916 were as follows: Mortgage, $40,650; Deeds, $35,000; Certified Copy, $1,708; Leases, $1,579, and Plat, $1,573.

The Recorder's Office is the place where all records of real property of the county are officially recorded. This includes deeds, mortgages, and personal property. The activity in this office showed a marked increase this past year over 1916 in all departments.

For instance, the Recorder's Office issues all checks to the Auditor's Office. The Auditor's Office also carries a listing of every parcel of real estate in the county—187,458 at present time. It processes 139 new plats last year, a payroll of $4,972.117.

The assessed value of real property in the county last year increased $16,273.82 to a grand valuation today of $1,453,456.82. The assessed value of real public utility and tangible personal property in the county last year increased $9,007 to $458,920.

The new family court center authorized by the voters in 1957 is expected to help solve the problems growing out of the present juvenile detention quarters of the county’s courts. The court’s juvenile and family court offices are located on the first floor of the new center, which will also house the juvenile and family court offices, and Perry Street in the center of the building.

The new center was expected to handle 10 percent of the cases, but it has since increased to 14 percent.
